On our cover...

Mount Vernon's South Main Street is enjoying a renaissance as downtown campuses are being created for Central Ohio Technical College (COTC) and Mount Vernon Nazarene University (MVNU). As is typical for our community the effort has been propelled by effective collaboration of the two institutions, generous private donors and, of course, The Community Foundation. Our cover photo reveals COTC's Ariel Hall in mid-renovation in the lower right corner and, to the left on the west side of South Main Street, MVNU's new Hunter Hall, opening in the fall of 2011 as the new home of the MVNU School of Nursing. The Buchwald Center, immediately to the north of Hunter Hall opened in September of 2009 housing the MVNU Department of Art and Schnormeier Gallery; however, a fall 2010 blaze that destroyed the former retail and office building on the southwest corner of South Main and Gambier Streets forced its temporary closure. MVNU acquired the razed corner property and is in the process of creating a mixed-use cityscape.

One block north on South Main Street other Foundation-assisted projects are giving Downtown Mount Vernon a new look, such as the renovation of the Odd Fellows Hall as a home for the Renaissance Foundation, and improvements to the Place at the Woodward performance space, part of the larger Woodward Opera House Restoration, which has also enjoyed significant Foundation support.

Assets surpass $35 million in comeback year for the Community Foundation

Adherence to sound investment practices, coupled with more than $1.5 million in new donor investment, propelled the Community Foundation of Mount Vernon & Knox County to a record high year-end asset value of $35,670,127 on December 31, 2010. Like other philanthropic organizations operating in this unpredictable economy, the Foundation looks to protect its gains by emphasizing fundamentals: maintaining a well-structured investment portfolio, controlling costs, and demonstrating great value to prospective donors.

On the grant making side of operations, Foundation board members continue to scrutinize applications for unrestricted fund grants with the goal of effecting the greatest benefit for the greatest number of Knox County residents. Listed further below are the beneficiaries of more than $400,000 distributed in our competitive grants program, while the remaining recipients of nearly $1.9 million in total grants are detailed in the alphabetical directory of scholarship, designated, donor-advised and unrestricted funds, beginning on page 9.

The board and staff of the Community Foundation are most gratified that, economic conditions notwithstanding, contributions to our more than 288 funds have sustained at, or near, historic levels. In 2010 we were pleased to add 12 new named funds to the Foundation and, as in years past, we are pleased to recognize them in this annual report to the community.

New Funds of the Foundation

Seven of the new funds augment our already impressive scholarship category, which in 2010 accounted for $728,000 in post-secondary awards to Knox County high school seniors and non-traditional students. Scholarship funds added in 2010 were:

The Aljian-Barnes Scholarship Fund, established by Gregory and Dee Barnes to assist graduates of Fredericktown High School with medical-related studies;

The American Legion Post #136 Scholarship Fund, created by the trustees of Post #136 for children, grandchildren and step-children of members of a Knox County veterans' organization;

The Geraldine "Gerri" Dennis Scholarship Fund, for the benefit of Mount Vernon High School graduates, created by Kenneth E. Dennis, family and friends, in memory of Gerri Dennis;

The Beverly Jo Dremann Early Childhood Education Scholarship Fund, established by Arthur K. Dremann in memory of his late wife, for the benefit of Fredericktown High School graduates;

The Blake and Chloris Fritz Scholarship Fund, created by Blake Fritz and friends in memory of Chloris A. Fritz, for the benefit of graduating seniors of Mount Vernon High School; and

The Justin T. Richert Scholarship Fund, established in memory of Justin T. Richert by family members, to benefit a graduating member of the Mount Vernon High School golf team, of which Justin had been a member.

The Vaughn Wiester Music Scholarship Fund was established at year-end in honor of Wiester's extraordinary music career since graduating from Mount Vernon High School in the early 1960s. The fund will provide scholarships to aspiring musicians from Knox County high schools. Beginning in 2011 proceeds from an annual benefit concert in the Knox County Memorial Theater, featuring the Vaughn Wiester Famous Jazz Orchestra, will contribute to the fund's principal.

Year in review

Three new organization funds also came into existence in 2010, extending the benefits of pooled investing within the Community Foundation to three additional non-profit organizations.

These included: the Sandra K. Barrick Fund for the Knox County Humane Society, the Community Concerts Association of Knox County Fund, and the Faith Lutheran Church Mission Fund. The assets of all three funds are accessible by the organizations according to guidelines they establish with the Foundation's consent at the time of fund creation. Long-term adherence to these distribution guidelines is assured by oversight of the Community Foundation Board of Directors.

Contributions from Carolyn Allar and Toma Lord created the Carolyn Lord Knox County Symphony Fund for the Double Bass, a designated fund which will provide an annual stipend for a Knox County Symphony musician.

Finally, the Community Foundation was pleased to welcome Noel and Suzanne Parrish as contributors to its Legacy Society Fund. Members of our Legacy Society have the opportunity to establish a charitable fund with a minimum initial gift of $1,000, and add to their fund with periodic contributions of any amount, until fund maturity is reached at the $5,000 level, at which time distributions may be made. (Please contact us, if you are interested in learning more about our Legacy Society Fund.)

Five remembered with new Foundation funds

New Community Foundation funds were established in 2010 as perpetual memorials to these community activists, volunteers and family loved ones. They were (from left) The Sandra K. Barrick Fund for the Knox County Humane Society, The Geraldine "Gerri" Dennis Scholarship Fund, The Beverly Jo Dremann Early Childhood Education Scholarship Fund, The Blake and Chloris Fritz Scholarship Fund, and The Justin T. Richert Scholarship Fund. Named foundation funds can be created with establishing gifts of $5,000 or more.

Unrestricted fund distributions total $540,000 in 2010

The Community Foundation was pleased to receive an array of competitive grant applications that addressed educational, social, cultural, recreational and capital needs throughout Knox County. The Foundation's two-stage application review process usually requires a presentation before the Distribution Committee by prospective grantees for requests of $20,000 or more; however, the application process for smaller grants is designed to be easily accessible to organizations that lack specialized grant writing expertise. All grant making decisions ultimately are made by our 12-member volunteer board of directors.

In 2010 the Community Foundation reviewed 61 requests for financial assistance, approving grants to the following organizations:

- Fredericktown Community Development Foundation – Stadium Safety and Rehabilitation Project, $50,000

Following more than 40 years of double bass performance with the Knox County Symphony, and with predecessor ensembles, Carolyn Lord Allar, with additional contributions from Toma Lord, established a fund to provide an annual stipend for a Knox County Symphony musician.

Additional grant making activities

Not to be overlooked are substantial recurring annual distributions from the Community Foundation's many designated funds. The foresight of generous donors, who typically created these funds with gifts from their estates, was responsible for approximately $243,000 in 2010 grants to churches, schools, social services organizations, and others. Scholarship awards of more than $750,000, and donor-advised distributions of some $465,000, accounted for the remainder of nearly $2 million of total Foundation grant making during the year.

New board members elected in 2010

The Foundation Board of Directors elected three new members to fill vacancies due to term limits which occurred between December 2009 and December 2010. Newly elected to the board were: Gene Jackson, manager of the Mount Vernon branch of PNC Bank, nominated by the Chamber of Commerce to replace Joan Jones; Marsha Rinehart, Executive Vice President of Kokosing Construction Co., selected at-large by the board to replace Ronald Godfrey; and Gordon E. Yancey, nominated by First-Knox National Bank to replace Mark Ramser. You will find our complete board membership on the inside back cover of this report.

Community Foundation of Mount Vernon & Knox County

Retiring Chair Mark Ramser reflects on the Foundation's increased community profile

During the last 14 years I have been privileged to serve on the board of The Community Foundation of Mount Vernon and Knox County and its predecessor organization, the Mount Vernon/Knox County Community Trust. In the process of composing my final observations as Chair of the Foundation, I looked back on more than a decade's worth of annual reports and was reminded of the significant changes that transpired during those years.

The first of these dramatic transformations is reflected in the name of the organization itself. Then a "Community Trust," now a "Community Foundation," the change is more than superficial.

The number of board members – five, plus a secretary – had remained unchanged since the "Trust" was founded in 1944. The addition of six at-large members between 1999 and 2002 has enhanced the board's geographic base and expertise. The change to a corporate Foundation structure also allowed for the employment of our first-ever part-time executive director in 2002. Sam Barone continues in that role today, and is doing an excellent job, now on a full-time basis. First-Knox National Bank, one of the five original trustees of the organization, also continues to provide administrative support and investment expertise, as well as office space for the Foundation. My immediate predecessor as chair, Maureen Buchwald, deserves due recognition for pointing the former Community Trust down this path of institutional growth and development.

Endowment assets multiply

Another astounding change – one we had hoped for and had anticipated with the expansion of our board and the hiring of professional staff – is the exponential increase in Foundation assets, from $12,483,387 in January 1997, to $35,670,127 at the close of 2010. Clearly word has gotten out to Knox County philanthropists that the Community Foundation is a flexible and cost-effective vehicle for charitable giving. In 1997 the Trust was comprised of 152 individual named funds, compared to the 288 funds which are catalogued in this 2010 annual report. The proliferation of funds is due primarily to the growing popularity of donor-advised and scholarship funds.

More assets and more funds translate naturally to more grants. Our community foundation routinely distributes between $1.5 million and $2 million per year, as compared to typical annual distributions of about $600,000 in the late 1990s. During my 14-year stint on the board, I had the opportunity to vote on total grant and scholarship distributions of nearly $18 million. For a community of our size, that is a noteworthy charitable investment in people, programs and facilities.

Three grant making areas come to mind that have had a tremendous impact on the Knox County community in recent years. First, grants have been made to Central Ohio Technical College, Kenyon College, and Mount Vernon Nazarene University, with the majority of those funds invested in physical facilities in downtown Mount Vernon.

Second, the Foundation has made important contributions to the acquisition of land for Foundation Park, Wolf Run Regional Park, Fredericktown's Mill Street Park, and The Falls at Honey Run. I cannot reference the Foundation's green space acquisition efforts without giving due credit to another of my predecessors as chair, William "Bill" Stroud. Bill established a "Special Projects Fund" with annual set-asides from our general fund grants budget to enable the Foundation to seize upon opportunities for park land acquisition, and the aforementioned properties were all purchased with these funds.

Finally, with respect to grant making, the number and dollar amount of academic scholarships has significantly increased, financially assisting Knox County students in achieving their academic goals. Scholarships in 1997 totalled $170,000 compared to more than $750,000 awarded in 2010.

Foundation built on generosity

The growth of the Community Foundation results from people with philanthropic mind sets donating money and other assets. Certainly the most notable of these "other assets" is a substantial portion of the acreage comprising Schnormeier Gardens near Gambier. Ted and Ann Schnormeier have created a world-class horticultural and artistic destination, ownership of which they are systematically transferring to a new supporting organization within the Community Foundation known as The Schnormeier Gardens Foundation.

The extraordinary philanthropic leadership of Karen Buchwald Wright and the Ariel

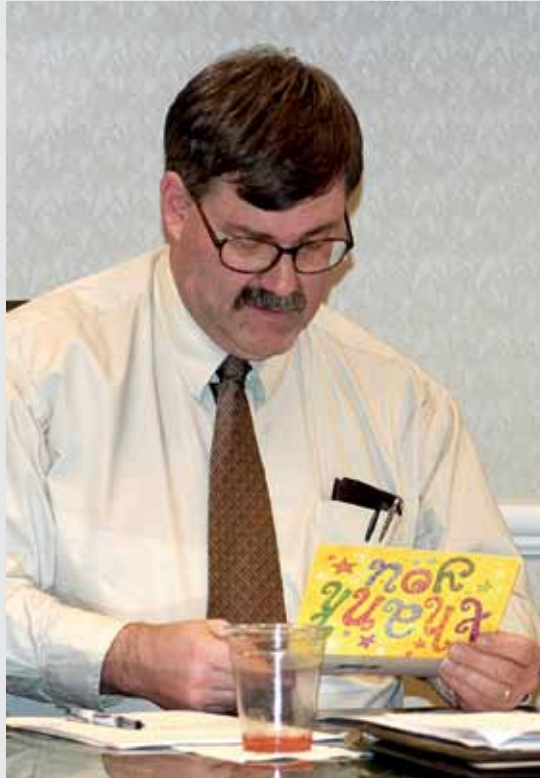

Corporation through their donor-advised and scholarship funds is also worthy of special mention.

I have been amazed at the diversity of donors to the Community Foundation. It is also important that the board members bring a diversity of community, education, and life experiences to prudently administer the assets of the Community Foundation and make wise decisions in the grants made from unrestricted funds.

I have greatly enjoyed working with everyone associated with the Community Foundation and I look forward to a continued association with the organization in the years ahead as a trustee emeritus and partner in philanthropy.

If you are not already familiar with the Community Foundation, I encourage you to contact Executive Director Sam Barone, or the Trust Department at First-Knox National Bank, to learn how your own philanthropic goals can be realized by establishing a charitable fund.

– Mark R. Ramser

Retiring Foundation Chair Mark Ramser will be fondly remembered by board colleagues for his insistence on reading aloud every thank you note received from a scholarship recipient or grantee organization.

Note to the financial statements:

The Community Foundation is following the provisions of FASB ASC 958-605-50 Transfers of Assets to a Not-for-Profit Organization or Charitable Trust that Raises or Holds Contributions for Others. This provision establishes standards for transactions in which a community foundation accepts a contribution from a donor and agrees to transfer those assets, the return on investment of those assets, or both to another entity that is specified by the donor. Under this provision, if a not-for-profit organization establishes a fund at a community foundation with its own funds and specifies itself as the beneficiary of that fund, the community foundation must account for the transfer of such assets as a liability. The Foundation refers to such funds as agency or "organization" funds. The Foundation maintains variance power and legal ownership of agency funds and as such continues to report the funds as assets of the Foundation. However, in accordance with FASB ASC 958-605-50, a liability has been established for the fair value of the funds.

Independent auditors' report for 2010

To the Board of Directors of
The Community Foundation of Mount Vernon & Knox County,

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial position of the Community Foundation of Mount Vernon & Knox County (the Foundation) as of December 31, 2010 and 2009, and the related statements of activities and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Foundation's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Community Foundation of Mount Vernon & Knox County as of December 31, 2010 and 2009, and the results of operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

As described in Note 9 to the financial statements, the Foundation has restated the 2009 financial statements to reflect assets held by the Foundation that are funds held as custody funds as a liability on the financial statements, rather than as net assets of the Community Foundation of Mount Vernon & Knox County.

Ramser, Godfrey conclude service on Foundation Board

Two Community Foundation board members completed their terms in 2010. Board Chair Mark Ramser (left) had served since January 1997 when he was nominated by First-Knox National Bank to complete the unexpired term of Kenneth Stevenson. He subsequently served two terms of his own, assuming the chairmanship of the Foundation in 2000 upon the retirement of Chair Maureen Buchwald. Ronald Godfrey joined the Foundation Board in July 2001 as a member of an "expansion class" which increased membership to its current levels. Both Ramser and Godfrey served with distinction on the Foundation's Distribution subcommittee during their tenures.

May we assist you in achieving your philanthropic goals?

Virtually all of the endowed funds listed on the preceding pages were created as the result of an inquiry made by a prospective donor to an attorney or estate planner, to the Community Foundation staff, or to a board member. If you desire to "leave a legacy" to your community be assured there is no better partner than a community foundation. Let us explain how effortlessly you can establish a named fund that could provide college scholarships, funds for our competitive grants program, annual support for a designated charity, or grants for different charities each year through a donor-advised fund. Our minimum contribution to create a named fund is still just $5,000, or just $1,000 as a Legacy Society member. Interested? Call us today at 740.392.3270 or e-mail: sbarone@mvkcfoundation.org.
